To Get VERMONT Kids Quality Child Care

VOTE Mitzi Johnson for State Representative

More than 70% of Vermont's children age 5 and under have working parents.¹ With limited access to affordable child care, figuring out how to balance work and life can be tricky for parents.

To help Vermont families get ahead, State Representative Mitzi Johnson fought to pass a budget with a $2.5 million increase in child care services for working families.²

That's money to help working parents get ahead now and to give children access to quality early learning and care so they can succeed later in life. That's why Mitzi Johnson is the leader we need in Montpelier—she will invest in our kids' futures and fight for working families.
